PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Senior producer with 12 years at The Howard Stern Show, developing interviews, live broadcasts, original segments, social content, and audio programming for SiriusXM's national audience of more than 30 million subscribers. Experienced in editorial preparation, guest research, live production, talent support, segment development, and turning timely stories into compelling on-air conversations.

EXPERIENCE

Senior Research Producer

The Howard Stern Show | SiriusXM

New York & Los Angeles | July 2014 – July 2026

- Produced hundreds of high-profile interviews and live segments and helped lead editorial preparation, including research strategy, pre-interviews, guest preparation, fact-checking, and live-show execution.
- Wrote and developed original segments, games, recurring features, scripted setups, and production notes in collaboration with hosts, senior producers, and program directors.
- Supplied real-time fact-checking, critical context, guest updates, and production support during live broadcasts.
- Produced talent-led social media shoots from concept through execution, including creative development, logistics, guest preparation, on-set support, and post-shoot follow-through.
- Coordinated directly with guests, publicists, music teams, writers, producers, and internal partners for interviews, rehearsals, musical performances, and special broadcasts.
- Identified breaking, overlooked, and offbeat stories and shaped them into timely on-air angles and original segment ideas.
- Scripted, produced, and edited themed audio packages and special programming across the Howard Stern Channels.
